Challenges When Setting Up a Business

Starting a business is not a joke. Sure you might have had romantic notions about sitting in a plush office, with the cool air of the air conditioner blowing in your face. With a hot cup of coffee in your hands, as you look on to the floor full of customers. With business pouring in and a general congenial air about. Great thought, but it might not always come true. You know that right? I'm not trying to burst your bubble here, but just laying down facts. Starting a business is no child's play. There are a lot of challenges when setting up
